

Call for participants - Wellbeing Among Youth in Scotland (WAYS)

We are looking for participants for WAYS - a project aiming to better understand what matters for health and wellbeing among LGBTQ+ young people living in diverse locations across Scotland.

We would like to hear from people who are:

- LGBTQ+
- Aged 16-25
- Living anywhere in Scotland.

Taking part involves two conversational interviews (approx. 1 hour each), about 10-12 weeks apart. Participants will receive a £25 voucher per interview, to thank them for their time. Participants will also be invited to take photos (if they wish) that capture what health and wellbeing means in their day-to-day life.

Contact Ruth Lewis
07776 248333
ruth.lewis@glasgow.ac.uk

Find out more here: www.gla.ac.uk/waysproject

